EXECUTIVE PRODUCER

(Principal: Mr. B. Lepatski)

Many people think that the principal isn't a human, that he's just there to punish us. Well, here's the real scoop on Mr. Lepatski. We asked him what his favourite movie and TV show was and he said that his favourite movie was "Dead Poets' Society". Now that's a pretty good movie for a principal! His favourite TV show is "60 Minutes". O.K, I agree with you there; it's O.K, but you're right - it's a principal show. His favourite actor is Al Pacino, and his favourite actress is Meryl Streep. Now listen to this! Mr. Lepatski likes to listen to Power 92; that's our kind of music, right? He also recalls his most memorable moment at Highlands. At the beginning of the year when he started his old beater of a car, all the kids around it ran away. (Well let's face it - if they didn't, they wouldn't be able to breathe.) He'd also like to be a stock market owner if he wasn't a principal. The reason he likes being a principal is the fact that he gets to work with people. He sees himself not solving problems for us, but helping us to solve our own problems. When we talked to him, we realized that he is a human, not just a person to punish us. He likes to be as fair as possible and to always tell you the truth. He's a very nice guy.

ASSISTANT PRODUCER

(Assistant Principal: Mr. D. Irons)

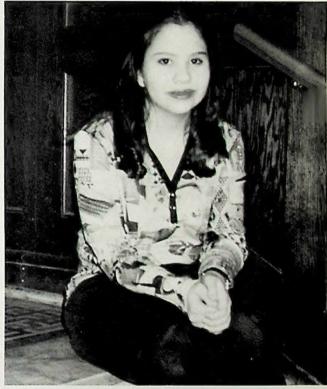

You probably think we're going to make Mr. Irons, our Assistant Principal, look like a human too, but it's been done. This time you be the judge. His favourite movie is "Dances With Wolves" and he enjoys the TV show "M.A.S.H." Pretty old stuff, hey? But now we'll throw a twist at you. His favourite actor is Al Pacino. Well, it's good to know the Principal and the Assistant have something in common. Mr. Irons likes to work with his hands doing things like carpentry. His most memorable moment at Highlands is the Adopt-A-Grandparent event. Mr. Irons is a caring person who enjoys the challenges of his job.

Message from the President of the Actors' Union

(Student Council President: Susan Rawlings)

This year I was given the privilege to serve as Highlands' Students' Council President. As the year comes to an end, I recognize all the individual students who have made their own accomplishments academically, athletically and from a citizenship perspective. The contributions made by the students have made the school year of 1995-96 by far a great success. The drama productions were all smashing hits, thanks to Mrs. Smith and all the promising actors. All the athletic teams also put on a great show, proving that with hard work and practice you can achieve almost anything. I would like to thank all the Students' Council members who sacrificed their own time to make this year memorable; they all deserve a round of applause. As you look through this yearbook in the future, you will begin to remember the excitement and sounds of the sports games, the terror of final exams and all the wonderful friends you made throughout the year. I sincerely hope your rememberances of the 1995-96 year will all be pleasant. Thank you and I wish everyone the best of luck in the future.

Address to the Academy

We are both pleased and honoured to represent this year's grade nine class as valedictorians. Everyone has worked hard here at Highlands and we appreciate the credit and recognition. Our last three years have been fun and memorable. We will always have great recollections of Highlands.

It seems like only yesterday when we arrived at Highlands, fresh-faced, eager, and naive. We were the lowest form of life according to the grade nines. We stuck together and accepted the fact that we would grow out of that phase. Finally we managed to make it to this point, our grade nine celebration.

Grade nine is a departure point for all of us. Some of us will be going our separate ways. We may be going to different High Schools in the city. We may not see one another as often as we're used to, but the friendships will still remain strong in our hearts.

To all of our teachers from seven through nine, thank you for your patience, direction, and time for helping us to get to where we are today, ready for what the future holds for us.

To our parents, we greatly appreciate your love and support. We know we may have been hard to deal with at times, but look at us now, an end result of your caring, nurturing, and love. Even though we are finished with this part of our life we still need you to be there for us. We have another three years of high school to go before we depart once again for other areas of life.

We are now moving on with our lives, learning new things each step of the way. Thank you to everyone who has made this moment possible. We greatly appreciate your dedication. And to the grade nines, best of luck to all in any endeavour you may undertake in your future.
